1.Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for providing holding contact only with side surfaces of the microcomponent or microstructured molded part, does not reasonably provide enablement for providing holding contact with both side surfaces and with other surfaces which actually contain microstructures. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The fourth paragraph of page 6 of the specification indicates that “the invented holding contact exists only with side surfaces of the microcomponent ...”. This paragraph also at least implies the desire to avoid holding contact with surfaces that may actually contain microstructures. Thus the use of “holding contact of at least parts of the side surfaces of the microstructured molded part” is not commensurate in scope with what applicants state is their “invented holding contact”.

2.Claims 1-11 and 25-33 are allowed.

3.Applicants’ arguments filed March 24, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants’ arguments concerning the Bellasalma reference are considered to be moot by the examiner based on the revised ground of rejection introduced in this Office action.

4.THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 1732

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
